Introduction

At The Griffin Primary School we believe that all children and young people have the right to go about their daily lives without the fear of being threatened, assaulted or harassed. Our aspiration is to establish and maintain a community of kindness, mutual tolerance and understanding, within which bullying does not occur. However, we recognise that within any human society there is a danger that bullying will take place. Whenever bullying takes place, our aim is to correct the offending behaviour in a swift and lasting manner. Bullying is categorised as a form of child-on-child abuse and should never be tolerated or passed off as “banter”, “just having a laugh” or “part of growing up”.

We have chosen to adopt The Anti-Bullying Alliance’s definition of bullying based on research from across the world over the last 30 years:

‘The repetitive, intentional hurting of one person or group by another person or group, where the relationship involves an imbalance of power. Bullying can be physical, verbal or psychological. It can happen face-to-face or online’.

The Griffin Primary School recognises there are many forms of bullying which broadly fall under the following headings: verbal (for example, name-calling), physical (for example, one student hitting another), social (for example, being deliberately ignored to isolate an individual) and cyber bullying (for example, using technology as a vehicle for undermining individuals – refer to the e-safety policy).

We also recognise that there can sometimes be a complex relationship between the various types of bullying.

We recognise that all forms of bullying, especially if left unaddressed, can have a devastating effect on individuals; it can create a barrier to learning and have serious consequences for mental wellbeing. By effectively preventing and tackling bullying our school can help to create a safe and disciplined environment, where pupils are able to learn and fulfil their potential.

Aims

All trustees, teaching and non-teaching staff, pupils and parents should have an understanding of what bullying is.

All trustees, teaching and non-teaching staff should know what the school policy is on bullying, and follow it when bullying is reported.

All pupils and parents should know what the school policy is on bullying, and what they should do if bullying arises.

As a school we take bullying seriously. Pupils and parents should be assured that they will be supported when bullying is reported.

Forms and types of bullying covered by this policy

Bullying can happen to anyone. This policy covers all types and forms of bullying including:

- bullying related to physical appearance
- bullying of young carers, children in care or otherwise related to home circumstances
- bullying related to physical/mental health conditions
- physical bullying
- emotional bullying
- sexual bullying
- bullying via technology, known as online or cyberbullying
- prejudicial bullying (against people/pupils with protected characteristics)

We will:

- support staff to promote positive relationships to help prevent bullying;
- recognise that some members of our community may be more vulnerable to bullying and its impact than others. Being aware of this will help us to develop effective strategies to prevent bullying from happening and provide appropriate support, if required;
- educate our pupils about what bullying is and why it is unacceptable and that they should abide by the anti-bullying policy;
- intervene by identifying and tackling bullying behaviour appropriately and promptly;
- ensure our pupils are aware that bullying concerns will be dealt with sensitively and effectively and that everyone should feel safe to learn;
- require all members of the community to work with the school to uphold the anti-bullying policy;
- recognise the potential impact of bullying on the wider family of those affected, so may work in partnership with parents/carers regarding all reported bullying concerns;
- seek to learn from good anti-bullying practice elsewhere and utilise support from any relevant organisations when appropriate;
- inform parents and speak to pupils involved if we are made aware of any online or cyberbullying that takes place outside of school hours, with the expectation that parents/carers will take responsibility for any action or consequences for their child.

Please refer to the Child Protection and Safeguarding policy for guidance on recognising and dealing with incidents of 'child on child abuse' and 'harmful sexual behaviour'.

The Legal Context of Bullying

- Children Act 2004: Section 10: the third outcome, 'protection from harm and neglect' specifically mentions bullying. Section 11: 'safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children'.
- Common law 'duty of care': Taking 'reasonable care to avoid causing foreseeable harm'.
- Equality Act 2010: Schools and other agencies that receive public funding must promote equality of opportunity for those with a protected characteristic to ensure that pupils are not discriminated against because of these things. Headteachers have a duty to encourage good behaviour and respect for others on the part of pupils and, in particular, prevent all forms of bullying among pupils.

- The Education Act 2002 as amended in the Education Act 2011: Schools must 'safeguard and promote the welfare of pupils'.
- Education and Inspections Act of 2006 as amended in the Education Act 2011. Schools have powers under this act: To regulate the behaviour of pupils when they are off site or not under the control of teachers 'to such extent as is reasonable'.
- A key provision in The Equality Act 2010 is the Public Sector Equality Duty (PSED), which came into force on 5 April 2011 and covers age, disability, gender reassignment, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex and sexual orientation. The Duty requires public bodies to have due regard to the need to eliminate unlawful discrimination, harassment, victimisation and any other conduct prohibited by the Act and foster good relations between people who share a protected characteristic and people who do not share it.
- The Education (Independent School Standards) Regulations 2014 provide that the proprietor of an Academy ensure that bullying at the school is prevented in so far as reasonably practicable, by the drawing up and implementation of an effective anti-bullying strategy.
- Government guidance: Safe to learn: embedding effective anti-bullying work in schools
- This includes specific guidance about cyber bullying, homophobic bullying, bullying related to race, religion and culture, bullying related to disability and bullying related to sex/gender.
- Keeping Children Safe in Education- September 2022: Statutory Guidance for Schools and Colleges.

Objectives of this Policy

- All trustees, teaching and non-teaching staff, pupils and parents should have an understanding of what bullying is and be signposted to further advice (see Appendix 1).
- All Trustees and teaching and non-teaching staff should know what the school policy is on bullying, and follow it when bullying is reported.
- All pupils and parents should know what the school policy is on bullying, and what they should do if bullying arises.
- As a school we take bullying seriously. Pupils and parents should be assured that they will be supported when bullying is reported.

Recognising Bullying

- There is a deliberate intention to hurt or humiliate.
- There is a power imbalance that makes it hard for the victims to defend themselves.
- It is usually persistent (isolated cyberbullying incidents may be seen as one-off incidents but, if sent to a range of pupils, may be seen as bullying).
- Friendship fallouts are seen as accidental and occasional, those involved show remorse and want to resolve the situation – this is different from isolating or excluding children from groups.
- Bullying can take place between young people; young people and staff; individuals or groups
- Certain groups of pupils/adults are known to be particularly vulnerable to bullying by others: these may include pupils with special educational needs such as learning or physical disabilities; young carers, Looked After children, those with protected characteristics, including those from ethnic and racial minority groups and those young people who are/perceived as lesbian, gay, bi-sexual, transgender or questioning their gender role.

Forms and Types of Bullying Covered by this Policy

Bullying can happen to anyone. This policy covers all types and forms of bullying including:

- bullying related to physical appearance
- bullying of young carers, children in care or otherwise related to home circumstances
- bullying related to physical/mental health conditions
- physical bullying
- emotional bullying
- sexual bullying

- bullying via technology, known as online or cyberbullying
- prejudicial bullying (against people/pupils with protected characteristics)

Roles and Responsibilities

It is the responsibility of:

- the Headteacher to communicate this policy to the school community and to ensure that disciplinary measures are applied fairly, consistently and reasonably
- the senior leadership team and trustees to monitor and review this policy
- all staff, including Trustees, senior leadership, teaching and non-teaching staff, to support, uphold and implement this policy accordingly
- parents/carers to support their children and work in partnership with the school
- pupils to abide by the policy

Strategies for Preventing Bullying

At The Griffin Primary School, as part of our on-going commitment to the safety and welfare of our pupils, we have developed the following strategies to promote positive behaviour and discourage bullying behaviour.

- Promoting an ethos of good behaviour, tolerance and respect between pupils and staff, an understanding of the value of education, and a clear understanding of how our actions affect others.
- Regularly evaluate and update approaches to take account of developments in technology, for instance updating 'acceptable use' policies for computers.
- Implement disciplinary sanctions so the consequences of bullying reflect the seriousness and the impact of the incident.
- Openly discuss differences between people that could motivate bullying, such as protected characteristics, children with different family situations including looked after children or those with caring responsibilities and teach children that using any prejudice-based language is unacceptable.
- Work with the wider community such as the police and children's services to agree a clearly understood approach to cases where bullying is particularly serious or persistent and where a criminal offence may have been committed.
- Maintain an open door policy and make it easy for pupils and parents/carers to report bullying, so that they are assured that they will be listened to and incidents acted on. Pupils and parents/carers should feel that they can report bullying which may have occurred outside school including cyber-bullying.
- Create an inclusive environment where pupils can openly discuss the cause of their bullying, without fear of further bullying or discrimination. Celebrating success is an important way of creating a positive school ethos.

Specific Strategies may Include:

- Employing restorative approaches.
- Activities to promote National Anti-Bullying week annually.
- Teaching PSHE topics based around bullying.
- Delivering assemblies regarding kindness, respect and tolerance.
- Specific curriculum input on areas of concern such as Cyberbullying and internet safety.
- Evaluate pupils' views on bullying via pupil voice.
- Installing values of tolerance and respect during break and lunchtimes.
- Regular staff training and development.

Responding to Complaints about Bullying

Incidents will normally be investigated in the first instance by the class teacher, under the instruction of the Headteacher. If for any reason a parent or student is unhappy about the way in which a bullying complaint has been responded to, they should contact the Headteacher who will investigate. The process will be:

- a. All involved will be asked to provide an account stating their view on what has happened.
- b. Both sides will be listened to and supported. Hasty judgements not based on clear evidence will be avoided. We will seek to consider both the actual incident and the context in which it has occurred.
- c. We will seek to identify whether bullying has taken place, using the legislation in section two and the professional judgement and common sense of all involved.
- d. All relevant parents would be informed about the incident and at a later stage about the way in which the school has dealt with the incident. DFES guidance recommends that complaints of bullying should be responded to within two weeks. Where possible we will seek to respond more quickly, but speed of response must not be allowed to compromise the integrity of the investigation.
- e. Sanctions will be imposed as appropriate. Sanctions may be discussed with the parents of the student concerned, however, the school will not break the rules of confidentiality by discussing the case of other students.
- f. If appropriate, external agencies would be involved to support the person being bullied or to offer corrective counselling to the person who is carrying out the bullying.
- g. Pupil behaviour will be monitored for a set period of time following the incident.
- h. It may be appropriate for the class teacher or Headteacher to speak to the entire year group about a particular incident.
- i. Any member of staff who deals with an incident of bullying will record the incident on a bullying incident record (Appendix 2) and also via CPOMS.
- j. Within the curriculum the school will raise the awareness of the nature of bullying / harassment through inclusion in PSHE, assemblies and subject areas, as appropriate, in an attempt to eradicate such behaviour.

Supporting Pupils Involved in Bullying

Pupils who have been bullied will be supported by:

- the adult reassuring the pupil and providing continuous pastoral support
- offering the pupil an immediate opportunity to discuss the experience with their teacher or a member of staff of their choice
- passing on the key information to other staff as appropriate, thus helping to monitor and prevent any future incidents of bullying
- discuss how to respond and build resilience as appropriate
- working towards restoring self-esteem and confidence
- providing ongoing support; this may include: speaking with staff regularly, offering formal counselling, engaging with parents and carers
- ensuring the pupil's wishes and feelings are taken into account when determining what action to take and what services to provide
- where necessary, working with the wider community and local/national organisations to provide further or specialist advice and guidance; this could include support through Early Help or Specialist Children's Services, or support through the Children and Adolescence Mental Health Service (CAMHS)

Pupils who have perpetrated bullying will be helped by:

- discussing what happened, establishing the concern and the need to change
- when appropriate, informing parents/carers to help change the attitude and behaviour of the child
- providing appropriate education and support regarding their behaviour or actions
- if online, requesting that content be removed and reporting accounts/content to service provider
- where necessary, working with the wider community and local/national organisations to provide further or specialist advice and guidance; this could include support through Early Help or Specialist Children's Services, or support through the Children and Adolescence Mental Health Service (CAMHS)
- Sanctioning, in line with school Positive Behaviour and Relationships Policy.

Monitoring and Review: Putting Policy into Practice

The school and Trustees will review this policy annually and assess its implementation and effectiveness. Cases of bullying will be reported to the Trustees at termly meetings. Pupil voice will be sought to ensure they are involved in monitoring this policy. The policy will be promoted and implemented throughout the school by all staff.
